Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 18 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Further showers overnight, but turning drier during Wednesday afternoon.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered showers through the early evening. They will quickly ease, producing a cloudy but largely dry night for most, though showers may continue in the south of the country. Feeling chilly. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Wednesday:
Showers develop quickly across the country through morning. Less frequent than recently, but possibly heavy. Showers should ease during the afternoon allowing more sunshine to develop. Blustery along south coast. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Persistent rain on Thursday arriving from the west, heavy, with strong winds and coastal gales. Staying wet on Friday, winds remaining strong. Further scattered showers and sunny spells on Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.